Product Description

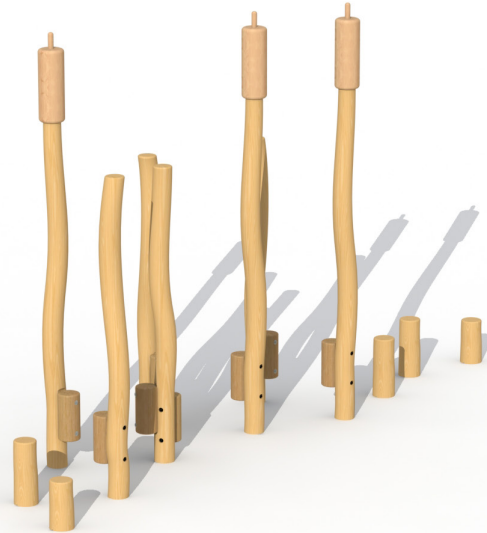

Playground equipment in the shape of a reed field consisting of 12 posts. The posts are a mix of long and short beams. Some beams have a reedmace on top. This is made out of larch wood. The long beams also have a small stepping post so children can step from one beam to the other. These small stepping posts are made out of oak and are connected to the longer beams by means of nuts and bolts. All beams are installed directly into the ground by using concrete.
